Gentle"persons",

I have read the DRECP 60 page Summary Report and find nothing....that is...nothing based on anything other than "assumptions" and those "assumptions" then translated into "models" that are at best only political in nature and lacking credible scientific evidence.

The 60 page summary is far too complex for the majority of the general public to read, let alone understand, and needs to be redone and worded in basic understandable (High School Level) language.

The San Bernardino High Desert has suffered enough already by the adverse impact of such project already completed and we are at this time protesting several projects presently being proposed..

I am opposed to any such plan that is not thoroughly explained and placed on the ballot for a vote of the people.
